Rob Shull is a Chartered Professional Accountant and Certified Forensic Investigator with over 25 years of experience. He has been appointed as a forensic accounting expert or assisted the named expert on numerous occasions.

Rob has testified as an accounting expert in commercial litigation, arbitration (including delivering concurrent evidence) and expropriation matters in Canada. He has prepared numerous expert reports on disputed projects with values of up to $45 million.

Rob has assisted clients with complex financial modelling, data capture, damage quantification, and administration of class action litigation across various industries including construction, financial services, retail, manufacturing, oil and gas, mining, municipal, provincial, and federal government. Prior to joining HKA, he was a managing director within PwC's forensics and disputes team.

Rob specializes in the areas of contract compliance, investigations, litigation support, and damage and lost profit calculations. He has conducted numerous assignments related to allegations of management and employee fraud.

Rob is a member of the Association of Certified Forensic Investigators (Canada), the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, the Illinois Society of Certified Public Accountants, and the Chartered Professional Accountants of Ontario. He has delivered numerous speaking opportunities and sits of the advisory committee of the Rotman School of Management's Diploma in Investigative and Forensic Accounting program.
